ASSESSMENT & EVALUATION

REAP learners will be assessed and evaluated on their knowledge (content learning standards) and understanding (big ideas) as well as their ability to demonstrate (curricular competencies) the necessary functions of an Education Assistant. Assessment will be ongoing throughout courses and practica through written and oral assignments, case studies, individual and group presentations, quizzes, tests and demonstrations. Assessments will be based predetermined descriptions called rubrics. At the end of each course and practicum, there will feedback to each learner.

Grades will be assigned for all courses except REAP 400, REAP 600 and REAP 610. (See below)

Given 100 points total for learning activities and assignments, Grades will be assigned as follows:

A	86%-100%
B+	80%-85%
B	73%-79%
C+	67%-72% = pass
C	60%-66% = fail
C-	50%-59% = fail

For all courses:

A letter of C+ is a passing mark while a letter grade of C or below is considered a failing mark.

For the Learning Portfolio and Practica:

An evaluation rubric will be used for the Learning Portfolio (REAP 610) and each practicum (REAP 400 and REAP 600). The final mark for each of these will be pass or fail.

REAP CERTIFICATE

To pass the REAP program, students must have at least six C+ marks in their courses, a Pass on each of their Practica and a Pass on their Learning Portfolio.

ATTENDANCE

In order to ensure that you get the full benefit of the learning and preparation as an Education Assistant, 100% attendance is mandatory for all courses and practica. Please make arrangements to ensure that you are able to attend fully by scheduling vacations and other events around courses and the practica. If there are unavoidable absences, e.g. illness, you are responsible to inform your instructor to determine what was missed and if anything could be made up.

BURSARY

There is a limited amount of funding available for financial hardship situations. Please contact Michael Khoo, mkhoo@sd38.bc.ca for details.

CODE OF CONDUCT

The Richmond Board of Education recognizes its obligation to all members of the school community to provide a positive climate and a safe, healthy environment such that effective, purposeful teaching and learning may take place. To that end it is expected that all members of the school community will conduct themselves in an ethical and lawful manner that demonstrates respect for self, others, property and the environment. The District Code of Conduct shall apply in all school district buildings and at school functions.

MISCONDUCT

Should an allegation of misconduct arise, there will be a fair investigative process to gather information and data. Based on the investigation, the situation will be dealt with accordingly. Each participant is responsible for her or his actions, to know what constitutes academic and non-academic misconduct and may be subject to disciplinary actions, for engaging in, attempting to engage in, or assisting others in engaging in any of the following actions:

1. Academic Misconduct

The following are examples of academic misconduct that may be subject to disciplinary actions but are not limited to:

COURSE DESCRIPTIONS

REAP 100: EA Roles and Responsibilities

Students will explore the roles and responsibilities of the Education Assistant in supporting learning in inclusive schools. They will also explore the importance of collaborative partnerships and communication to support inclusive school communities. Understanding and applying the principles of inclusion will be critical for this course. Team building strategies will occur daily so the students will become a cohesive and supportive cohort.

REAP 110: Team Building and Effective Communication

Students will explore the basic principles of effective interpersonal communication. They will examine their own style of communicating. Students will demonstrate competency in areas of verbal and non-verbal communication. Students will examine the concepts of power and conflict in interpersonal communication. They will demonstrate effective conflict resolution strategies in a variety of contexts.

REAP 120: Child and Youth Development Students will explore the human passage from birth through adolescence. They will draw on theory and personal experience to investigate and reflect on child and adolescent development, change and diversity in relation to self and others.

REAP 130: Supporting Students with Special Needs

Students will develop an understanding of the nature and characteristics of students with special needs. Learners with special needs have disabilities of an intellectual, physical, sensory, emotional, or behavioural nature, or have a learning disability or have exceptional gifts or talents. Students will also learn strategies to support these students.

REAP 200: Personal and Health Care

Students will explore health and personal care issues for children and adolescents with disabilities and the role of the Education Assistant in supporting them. They will practice selected skills necessary to provide health and personal care support.

REAP 210: Current Issues in Education

Students will examine the current issues in education in elementary and secondary schools in British Columbia. They will explore: educational theory and the principles of learning; key areas of the updated BC curriculum and the First Peoples' principles of learning; Universal Design for Learning (UDL) and its impact on teaching and learning; inquiry-based learning; self-regulation in the classroom and the three-tiered continuum of academic and behavioural support.

REAP 220: Nonviolent Crisis Intervention

Nonviolent Crisis Intervention is a program developed by the Crisis Prevention Institute (CPI) committed to best practices and safe behaviour management methods that focus on the prevention of problem behaviours. With a core philosophy of providing for Care, Welfare, Safety and Security of everyone involved in a crisis situation, the program's proven strategies give participants the skills to safely respond to various levels of risk behaviour while balancing the responsibilities of care.

REAP 300: Curriculum and Learning Resources

Students will explore the elements and processes of effective instructional support and the role of the EA in that process. They will learn about adaptations and modifications of curricula to be able to respond to a variety of student learning needs. They will explore models of learning such as Multiple Intelligences Theory and how such approaches assist in adapting and modifying curricula. They will also learn to create visual supports for a wide variety of students' communicative, learning and behavioural needs using a software program known as BoardMaker.

REAP 310: Understanding Behaviour

Students will examine the principles of positive behaviour support and social emotional learning. They will identify key principles of behaviour and understand what issues are most commonly linked to problem behaviour. They will also learn and understand behavioural/mental health diagnostic criteria and supports, learn how to observe and record behaviour and understand their role as a member of a behaviour change team.

REAP 400: Practicum 1

Students will participate in a three-week, full-time practicum in an elementary or secondary school setting. They will observe, assist and work with children and/or adolescents requiring learning, behavioural, and/or physical support under the guidance and supervision of professional staff, particularly the EA Mentor. REAP students will also be supported by a Practicum Supervisor.

REAP 500: Introduction to Autism Spectrum Disorders-Practical Application

Students will develop an understanding of the nature and characteristics of students with autism spectrum disorders. They will examine the current research on effective practices for supporting students with autism spectrum disorders in a variety of educational settings. Students will explore functional behavioural assessment practices, positive behaviour supports and a wide range of strategies and materials that enhance learning, communication and social skills.

REAP 510: Current Issues in Special Education

Students will examine and reflect upon the philosophical, historical, organizational and daily aspects of inclusive schooling. They will investigate patterns of diversity, possible implications of specific disabilities and how individual strengths and needs may be supported in the classroom. Students will examine their role and personal values, beliefs and attitudes in supporting students with special needs and teachers in the school and community.

REAP 600: Practicum Two

Students will integrate and apply the theoretical concepts from their coursework in a final three-week practicum that is a full-time experience in an elementary or secondary school setting. They will actively observe, assist and work with children and/or adolescents requiring learning, behavioural and/or physical support under the guidance and supervision of professional staff, particularly the EA Mentor. REAP students will also be supported by a Practicum Supervisor.

REAP 610: Learning Portfolio

The Learning Portfolio is a compilation of academic work and other forms of educational evidence regarding the student's learning throughout the REAP program. It is an opportunity to organize and synthesize key learnings and reflect on their impact on their future role as an Education Assistant. Students will include their personal profile and statement of philosophy and provide artifacts that reflect the practical applications of their role and reflect on goals for the future.
